GMO POLICY

With regards to our range of herbs, seasonings, spices and other dehydrates, our products are free from any Genetically Modified Material as defined in the current UK EC legislation (EC 1829/2003).

Raw ingredient suppliers have given assurances that they are unaware of any genetic material in their raw materials and have systems in place to continuously monitor their raw material supplies.

'World of Spice' maintains its efforts aimed at ensuring that any ingredients which may be derived from gums, maize and soya, for example, are of tradition origin and do not contain genetically modified genes.

This policy will be updated as necessary as and when legal and customer requirements alter.
